

CBS installs Israel fanatic bureau chief in purge

The Grayzone's Aaron Mate and Max Blumenthal on the latest purge by ultra Zionist CBS editor in chief Bari Weiss, and the shocking history of her new hire, Shayndi Raice. Yeah, well, they fired a longtime editor in London who was said to be arguing for balanced coverage of the genocide in Gaza. And so Bari Weiss ousted her and then appointed someone named Shani Rice, who is based in, where else, but Israel, who was a deputy foreign editor at The Wall Street Journal and responsible for their Middle East bureau, and was, yeah, involved in stories like the one that claimed that UNRWA, the UN refugee agency for Gaza, had a bunch of staffers involved in October 7th. Also, the story claiming that Hamas had headquarters under Al-Shifa Hospital. All this was done under the tenure of Shani Rice, whatever her name is. And, of course, that makes her qualified for a top job at Bari Weiss's The Free Press.

So here's Bari Weiss announcing Shani Rice. Incredible news out of CBS this morning. Shani joins us as foreign editor. Shani has it all. She's a scoop-hound reporter, a brilliant editor, and a clear-eyed leader. She's also curious, dogged, exacting, and tireless. More here from Paramount, which is owned by David Ellison, who is an Israeli asset whose father, Larry Ellison, is a close friend of Netanyahu, and they basically bought Paramount in order to control CBS and gave Bari Weiss $150 million so she could drag CBS's ratings into the toilet in order to make it a Zionist propaganda mechanism and bring people on like Shani Rice, who, as you mentioned, was responsible for one of the most scandalous stories of the post-October 7th era.

I wrote just a quick thread about her on Twitter, that she presided over The Wall Street Journal's discredited report falsely claiming that 12% of UNRWA, United Nations, employees participated in the October 7th attack. The whole point of this story was to defund and destroy UNRWA, which was maintaining the refugee population of Gaza, providing them with free schooling, food, and shelter. The fake story was co-authored by Carrie Keller-Lynn, who was not only a former reporter for The Times of Israel, she worked for the IDF in their spokesman's office. She was a spokesperson for the IDF. That was the co-author of this story under the watch of Shani. It helped justify Israel's banning of UNRWA, bombing of its facilities, and ultimately set the stage for its replacement by the murderous Israeli and Trump-run Gaza Humanitarian Foundation, which spread famine across Gaza.

Yeah.

So that story has a body count, but there's more. I mean, you know, she's named in media reporting at the time by Semafor, but there's more background on Shani. I mean, why was she appointed by Bari Weiss? Her husband is Dov Weiss. He's a Jewish theology professor, I think, at the University of Illinois. Dov Weiss's father is one of the most prominent rabbis in the country, Avi Weiss. He's a columnist for The Times of Israel. He hates Mamdani, of course. Whatever.

David Sheen reminded me, and he's done incredible reporting on the whole Kahanist movement, that Avi Weiss was an outspoken supporter of the terrorist Jewish Underground, which carried out bombings and assassinations of West Bank mayors throughout the 1980s—mayors who supported Palestinian autonomy—and the mayor of Bethlehem, the mayor of Ramallah, they maimed and killed people. And he openly not only spoke out for them but raised money for them. So that says it all about what's going on at CBS. And this lady is not just Shani Weiss. She's not just going to be like the London bureau chief. She's taking over an entire division. This is a new position.

It's like Bari Weiss is running her own version of The Apprentice, Donald Trump's reality TV show. But the only criterion for being eliminated is if you don't serve Israel. So someone gets eliminated from her reality show because they don't serve Israel, and they get replaced by someone who does. How far is this going to go? When the Ellisons end up owning everything, like every media outlet except for, I don't know, The Grayzone and a few others. Like, they're going to run out of Zionists to hire from other outlets, so they're going to start recruiting from, like, Zionist summer camps and Jewish day schools. Like, they're going to be hiring, like, freshman kids to be, like, bureau chiefs, because eventually they're going to run out of people to have doing these jobs.

It's just—and by the way, also, going after UNRWA—the other major reason to destroy it, on top of the fact that it keeps Palestinians in Gaza alive, is the fact that it's a refugee agency explicitly. It reminds the world that the people of Gaza, for the most part, are refugees, and that refugees have rights, and that they come from somewhere—a place that they were kicked out of by Israel. And so it reminds people that Israel is a colonizer and that the refugees have rights, and so therefore the agency that keeps refugees alive has to be destroyed and turned into this thing—an issue not of refugees having the right to return, having the right to compensation, but just sort of like being people, oh, like they're displaced, so let's go send them off to Africa or wherever else we can place them. So it was a deliberate evil, the pinnacle of evil, and The Wall Street Journal took part in it, and so did the Biden administration as well. The Biden administration laid the groundwork for this. It's another part of their legacy. They participated—like Antony Blinken immediately suspended UNRWA funding after The Wall Street Journal.

After that article.

#Aaron Mate

Everyone else followed suit—Canada, all these NATO states. It was coordinated. This was a deliberate campaign, and that can never be forgotten.

So you have an editor overseeing that piece who's married to the son of a rabbi who raised money for Jewish terrorists in the settlements. You have a co-author of the piece who was an IDF spokesperson. And the only sourcing in the piece comes from Israeli intelligence. The whole thing was an Israeli intelligence hoax to defund UNRWA, which succeeded through Tony Blinken, who was the stepson of an Israel lobbyist and the grandson of an Israel lobbyist. It led to the Gaza humanitarian foundation and famine, a thousand people being shot seeking food at these fake aid sites, which itself then was spun out into the Board of Peace, which is led by Jared Kushner, whose family supported Israel, who knew Netanyahu as a young boy when he would stay at his house.

The entire agenda is an Israeli intelligence agenda. And that raises questions. Is Sharyn Alfonsi an Israeli intelligence asset who was just hired by CBS News? Because CBS News is owned by an Israeli asset, David Ellison. I mean, that's what we're dealing with here. Then you had—what's his name—the Zionist version of Dan Rather or Peter Jennings. I forget his name. The self-circumcised guy? Yeah, the guy who had a circumcision at age 40 in order to prove himself so that he could get in the anchor chair. Yeah. What's his name? Tony. Tony. Tony Dokoupil. He's like the least-watched anchor on TV. His presence has led to a record drop in CBS ratings.

#Aaron Mate

Shocking. Yeah.

#Max

He married an Israeli woman and then had to get circumcised in order to get into the anchor chair. That's literally what's going on at CBS News.

#Aaron Mate

Well, his generals are a great metaphor for what's happening to the news industry, and basically everything. Everything is being cut off, circumcised, neutered. Yeah, neutered for the sake of Israel.

#Max

Well, you still got The Grayzone. I haven't sold out to any Israel-first billionaires yet. Even though we destroy the free press in YouTube channels, subscribers, YouTube views, and you know, we're not even pushing it that hard—we're heavily suppressed. But part of the rationale for Bari Weiss getting all that money was she rapidly racked up like 300,000 subscribers. Like, wow, that's—look at any of their videos. They sit there for weeks and get 2,000 views. Nobody wants to watch that. Like...

#Aaron Mate

No one wants to watch Conversations with Coleman or whatever.

#Max

Yeah, Coleman Hughes, a.k.a. Mini Van Jones, hosting a debate between Alan Dershowitz and Josh Hammer on gun control. Yeah, that would—everybody, you know, it's like the Iran war. Everyone can see that it's an evil war that serves no American interest. And everyone can see that the free press is fake propaganda and that CBS is just, like, it just doesn't work anymore.
